The screenshot displays the A1 Keyword Research 2.1.3 software interface. The main window shows a table of keyword density analysis for the website <http://www.microsystools.com>. The table includes columns for 'Located', 'Count', 'Count %', 'Weight', and 'Weight %'. Below the table, there are sections for 'Raw text input' and 'Keyword list output'. The 'Raw text input' section shows the HTML source code of the page, and the 'Keyword list output' section shows a list of keywords extracted from the page. The interface also includes a 'Tools' panel on the right with options like 'Analyze active address', 'Analyze raw text input', and 'Lock analysis results'.
